Doss Leads Raider Offense

Glenn Doss led the Raiders in offense during the 1973 football season as the Raiders finished the season at 5-5 overall and 5-4 in the district. Doss scored 100 points in the 10 points in the 10 games this year and gained 993 yards rushing. His scoring came on 14 touchdown runs, two by passes, one two point conversion run and he kicked two extra points. His best game was probably the last one of the season when he scored 25 points and rushed 23 times for 201 yards against Altavista. In the Staunton River game, the second of the season, he scored 20 points, rushing for 135 yards on 11 carries and all his TD's coming on long runs. They were of 33,22 and 48 yards. The 48 yard one being his longest score of the year. His 900 yards on 163 carries averaged about six yards a carry. He scored in seven of the 10 games and two of those he didn't score in the Raiders were shutout.

The opponents outscored Appomattox during the year by pushing across 170 points and the Raiders scoring 156 points. The Raiders picked up 79 first downs and gave up 101 first downs to the opponents. In rushing, the Raiders gained 1285 to 1244 yards for the opponents.

The Raider defense was sparked by Warren Coleman and Dickie Kelso who seemed to have had 10 good games.

They averaged about eight tackles per game and were in on many others in assists. Mike Ramsey, James Hunter, David Baxter and Mike Gallier also had their big games on defense.

The Raiders defense came up with 13 pass intereceptions and 14 fumble recoveries in nine games (William Campbell not included).

The longest scoring run for Appomattox this year was a 85 yard kickoof return by Bascomb Almond in the Staunton River game. The longest scoring play from scrimmage was a 78 yard pass from MacWeaver to Mike Gallier in the Liberty game. Rustburg had a 87 yard kickoff return against Appomattox for the longest six pointer against them.

The scoring by quarters for Appomattox and the opponents was as follows:

Op.	42	46	32	50	170
Ap.	30	32	43	51	156

Scoring for Appomattox:

	TD	EP	TP
Glenn Doss	16	4	100

Concord Garden Club

The November meeting of the Concord Garden Club was held in the home of Mrs. D. S. Booth with Mrs. G. Merle Carroll as co-hostess.

The president, Dr. Mae Kelly, encouraged chairmen of committees to report activities.

Mrs. M. Roberts, Mrs. Hattie Johnstone, and Dr. Kelly reported on the Miller and Rhoads Forum held in Richmond.

After the business meeting Mrs. Ryland Phelps demonstrated flower-making using corn shucks for petals around a variety of dried centers of plants which she had collected. The club members were soon exhibiting interesting and beautiful specimens of flowers suitable for dried arrangements.

After the program the club members enjoyed a delicious luncheon consisting of their favorite foods which they had brought to share.

Ribbons were awarded to the following: Arrangements: Mrs. C. R. Carson, Tri Color for her arrangement of Nandina and Pine; Mrs. Wilson Dowling and Mrs. E. T. Burleigh, Blue; Mrs. C. F. Jones and Mrs. M. M. Roberts, Red. Horticulture: Mrs. D. S. Booth, Blue; Mrs. J. W. Pratt and Mrs. D. S. Booth, Red; Dr. Mae Kelly, Yellow.

The December meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. E. T. Burleigh with Mrs. J. T. Burleigh Co-hostess.

CHRISTMAS OPEN HOUSE

The Appomattox County Extension Office will observe Open House December 3-7, 1973, from 10:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each day.

Christmas gift items will be displayed and a recipe and idea booklet will be available to each person visiting the office. Refreshments will be served.

You are cordially invited to come by and get ideas for your holiday preparations.

Football Banquet Honors Little League Teams

A football banquet for the three Little League Football Teams in Appomattox County was held at the Appomattox Primary School at 7 p.m. on Saturday night.

Coty Dickerson, came to Appomattox as assistant coach this year. He is a native of Blacksburg and a graduate of VPI. He is married and has two children.

The banquet was made possible again this year through efforts of Mrs. Margie Doss and the Cheerleaders with the help of some of the parents.

Players on all three teams received monogram awards.

Attended So. States Meeting

N. M. Clowdis of Red House represented Southern States Cooperative's members in the Appomattox area at the association's 50th annual stockholders meeting held in Richmond, Va., November 13-14-15.

Also attending the session was Ronald Coleman representing Coleman and Sons, Inc. local Southern States retail outlet.

They heard General Manager John J. Fuland, report to the 1900 delegates, guests and employees who attended the session that net purchases by patrons exceeded $180,000,000, an 18% gain over 1971-72, and net savings totalled $5,092,000 after taxes. Both were new high marks, Feland told the 1900 members, employees and special guests at the session. He reported increases in volume of all commodities handled by the cooperative, as well as an increase for Southern States Grain Marketing Cooperative.

Freland, making his first report as general manager since assuming that position July 1, as successor to W. T. Steele, Jr., also reported "an excellent year of operations" for the cooperative's local retail cooperatives, service branches and private service agencies.

He shared the meeting at Tuesday's business session with Controller F. M. Armbrect, Wholesale Services Director J. H. Buehholz, and Community Services Director Paul E. Mullins. In his presentation, Feland also thanked Steele, who had directed co-op operations during the anniversary year and became management counsel on July 1, for assistance and sound counseling in the intervening months. Steele retired from cooperative service Dec. 1.

Production levels determine the cost of many products. Wild rice, a gourmet food, grows wild in Minnesota. Yields on uncultivated stands are about 50 pounds of green rice per acre. Fifty pounds of green rice can be processed into 20 pounds of suitable foods.

Next week I will try to tell the farmers story and what has happened to food prices.

Caesaris Liberis

Again this year Appomattox County High School has a most active Latin Club named Caesaris Liberis, translated, Caesar's Children. The members of this club have combined in their efforts to keep alive the classical culture of ancient Rome.

This year the club has been very involved in school and community events. For Homecoming at ACHS in October, the Latin Club prepared a float, carrying out the Homecoming theme of Super School Spirit, and the club colors of purple and gold.

At the recent Railroad Festival in Appomattox the club set up a booth, informing the community of their activities. Coming up in December is the State Convention of the Junior Classical League of Virginia, to be held at the Hotel Roanoke. Four members will attend the Convention on the 7th and 8th of December. They are: Janice Gagner, Judy Bryant, Wanda Tabor, and Gary Carter.

Last week on November 14, the installation of new officers was held. Janice Gagner, President; Delaphine Lewis, Vice-President; Judy Bryant, Secretary; Gary Carter, Reporter; Pam Moore, Treasurer; and Wanda Tabor, Historian, were installed. These people have an active year planned for the club.
